Preparing for Merchants.

With the twelfth annual trade exposition of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association of Milwaukee still a month away, there are already over eighty reservations by leading merchants and manufacturing establishments of the state metropolis for the trip. This excursion will be a mid Wisconsin affair, leaving Milwaukee on the morning of Monday, June 8, and visiting over thirty cities and towns, straight up through the center of the state to Hurley, Ironwood and Ashland.

The official emblem of this year's trade excursion of the Milwaukee business men will be a beautiful watch for with the wording, "Name It—Milwaukee Makes It." This sentiment is to be the key note of the trip and the versatility of Milwaukee manufacturers is thus to be impressed upon the people of the state. This watch for will bear on its reverse the name of the company distributing it on the trip. Each individual firm represented will also have its own distinctive advertising novelties for distribution.

Arrangements for the reception of the Milwaukee visitors are being made generally through the part of the state to be visited, especially at the cities where a full night stop will be made. At Grand Rapids, where the party will stop over night, Thursday, June 6, committees have been appointed to meet the special train at Nekeos with automobiles and bring the members of the party to the city of Grand Rapids over the river drive between the two places, and, if sufficient automobiles cannot be secured, to arrange for taking the balance of the party over the interurban electric line in order to give them a change in the method of travel, and also to show the scenic beauties of the Wisconsin, the park and recreation places along the river.
A special effort will be directed toward the decoration of the business blocks of the city by a display of bunting and flags.

At Ashland, where the party will arrive Friday afternoon, June 7, the John Schroeder Lumber Co. of Milwaukee and Ashland, will have a large steamer in waiting to take the trade excursionists and the leading business men of Ashland for a two hour ride on Chequamegon Bay, visiting Bayfield and Washburn, passing Madeline Island with its famous church 250 years old, the first religious edifice erected in Wisconsin, and giving views of the famous Apostle Islands, one of the most attractive regions on the south shore of Lake Superior, as well as a comprehensive idea of the harbor of Ashland with its great ore, lumber and merchandise docks.

The Milwaukeeans do not desire entertainment in the shape of banquets or elaborate receptions. They do not wish to prove a burden upon the hospitality of the communities which they are to visit, but they will appreciate thoroughly the opportunity to meet the representative business men of each city and town visited, to learn what each place has to offer in natural resources and its leading lines of manufacture, and to establish a community of interest between the state metropolis and the cities which stand in the same relation to the districts immediately surrounding them. They wish it understood that they come to learn as well as to furnish information, that this trip is intended to be a reciprocal affair, of advantage both to the visitors and to the places visited.

Stabbing Affair
Sebastian Kinslein of the town of Rudolph was arrested on Saturday charged with assault and battery, the complaining witness being Mike Heron. Kinslein paid the fine and costs in the case, and paid for the damages he had done and was allowed to depart, supposedly a wiser and a poorer man.

The fracas occurred at a wedding in Rudolph on Wednesday last, during which Kinslein drew a knife and stabbed Heron, inflicting a slight wound on his shoulder, and cutting his coat. The wound did not amount to much, owing to the fact that the weapon used was a pocket knife and had only a short blade. It was very lucky for all concerned that things did not turn out more seriously.

Good Advice to Woodmen.
Herman L. Ekern, Commissioner of Insurance of Wisconsin, says, in speaking of the change in rates made by the Modern Woodmen: "Even as a matter of dollars and cents, members of re-rating societies should continue their insurance, because their rates will be as low as any that can be offered in this state for the same kind of insurance by any permanent society, and because any member changing from one society to another pays something more in the first cost of getting into the society or securing other insurance. Members who think of dropping their insurance will do well to take enough time to study the question before doing anything which may bring regret to both themselves and their families."

Plenty of Patients.
George Ward returned on Tuesday from Marshfield where he had been looking after some matters connected with the insane asylum. Mr. Ward reports that there are now 132 patients in the hospital, 41 of whom are from Wood County, and the remainder from other counties. He states that more patients are expected in the near future.

COUNTY BOARD NOW IN SESSION.

The county board met at the court house on Tuesday afternoon pursuant to the call issued, with every member but one in attendance.

A. E. Bennett called the meeting to order and the first business transacted was the election of a new chairman. There were forty votes polled, and of this amount Edward Lynch received 31 and Ernest Eichsteadt 9, and Mr. Lynch was declared elected.

After adopting the same rules that have been used in governing the board in previous years the board adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning in order to give the chairman a chance to appoint committees, etc.

City Council Meeting.
The regular meeting of the city council was held last evening at the city hall, Mayor Cohen presiding.

Nate Anderson was elected as alderman from the seventh ward in place of Andrew Mosher, who resigned at the last meeting.
The sum of $75.00 was appropriated the G. A. R. for the purpose of enabling them to properly observe Memorial day.

A petition was presented from members of the band asking that the appropriation for a band director be raised to $100 per month, the present director having refused to stay here for a less sum. The petition was denied by the council.

The First National Bank was made the depository for the city for the coming year.

The council voted to revise the water rates in the city, a member of the railway rate commission having looked the matter over here and decided that we were not on an equitable basis.

It was voted to buy a stone crusher and steam roller which will be used in fixing up the streets about the city.
A committee of three consisting of Aldermen Davis, Pribbanow and Lukaseki was appointed for the purpose of looking after the matter.

A resolution was introduced which proposed to have some kind of a paid fire department, but the matter was turned down by the council.

The mayor was instructed to appoint a park commission, whose duty it will be to look after the parks in the city.

It was also decided to try to effect a compromise in the Oak street matter rather than to take the matter into the courts, and an effort will be made to come to some agreement with the owners of property along that street.

Hereafter the employees of the city will be paid every two weeks instead of once a month as heretofore.

It was decided to take the dirt from the excavation that will be made in the rear of the Johnson & Hill building, same to be paid for at the rate of 40c per load.

City Has Complaint Book.
Oshkosh, Wis., May 4.—The new city council has arranged to have a "complaint" book. In this book which will be kept at the city clerk's office citizens of Oshkosh will have the privilege of registering any complaints they may have to make in regard to anything over which the council has jurisdiction, and each day these complaints will be considered and action taken where it is considered necessary. For instance complaints in regard to defective sidewalks, insanitary conditions, bad streets, can be recorded in this book and thus called to the immediate attention of the council, which will endeavor to have the same for complaint removed. At the end of the year the book will doubtless furnish an interesting record of what has been complained of and of what steps have been taken to remedy the troubles reported.

Circuit Court Monday.
Circuit court convenes in this city next Monday. Clerk of Court Bever has already prepared the calendar and the indications are that the session will be fully as long as usual.

An Electric Incubator.

S. H. Smart has been putting in a part of his time this spring in figuring up an electric incubator, and unless all the signs fail he has discovered the proper method of hatching chickens.

He started in with a small affair that would hold about forty eggs and the chickens hatched in good shape so he decided to rig up a larger one.
All you have to do is to go to the store, buy the number of eggs you want to hatch, bring them home and put them into the incubator, turn on the juice, and let her go. It is self regulating, so that it will no longer be necessary to trudge down stairs in the middle of the night in your bare feet to see how the incubator is coming, only to find that the lamp went out several hours before and that the chicks are probably killed by the cold, or else that it took a sudden notion to burn harder soon after you went to bed, and that the thermometer registers a hundred and thirty in the shade, and that the chickens have probably been cooked.

With the new fangled arrangement anybody that can carry home a dozen eggs without breaking them can hatch their own chickens; doesn't even have to have much brains as the average settler has, which ought to make a great thing for chicken fanners in general. It is thought that after it is perfected a little more that even a woman can operate it with success.

Most cities, like Grand Rapids, have got the illumination for their streets from arcs that are located on the corners of the streets. These lights are much better than no light at all, but there are now more modern methods that have more artistic merit, as well as furnishing light at the same time.

The most acceptable method now is to have clusters of lights along the curbs at regular intervals which not only light the streets but also look nice. These lights are generally used in the business districts, the old method being used in the outskirts of the city.

In some places where it was desired to make the change and where the council did not see fit to make the expenditure necessary, the merchants themselves have set the poles in front of their places and furnished the equipment, all the city had to do being to supply the electricity, which in some instances was hardly more than that used under the old system.
Something of this kind might be worked here in order to get the plan started.

Death of W. C. Trahern.
W. C. Trahern, one of the old residents of this section, died at the home of J. D. Potter at Pittsville on Thursday last, death being caused by a general dissolution due to old age, he having reached the advanced age of 87 years.

Deceased was at one time quite an extensive cranberry grower, having, in company with S. A. Spafford, owned what is now the Jacob Searis marsh in the town of Orono. Advancing age caused him to sell out his interests several years ago, since which time he has been making his home with one of his children.

He is survived by four children, three daughters and one son, they being Mrs. Martha Potter of Pitts-ville, Mrs. Sadie Pok of Pokahassett, Alberta, Mrs. Priscilla Miller of Chester Hill, Mass., and W. S.
Trahern of Medford Lake, Washington.

The remains were brought to this city on Saturday and shipped to Almond where they were interred.

District Federation Meeting.

The Tenth District's Seventh Convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in the Congregational church May 14 and 15 by invitation of the City Federation of Women's Clubs. An excellent program has been prepared which promises a treat not only to the out-of town guests but to members of the hostess organization and their friends.

The evening sessions will be of pleasing interest to the gentlemen.
Further consideration will be shown the men by giving them the privilege of furnishing automobiles for the drive on Wednesday afternoon May 15. The chief social feature will be a reception given by Mrs. Isaac Witter.

Chairmen of local committees are as follows:
Program—Mrs. Earle Pease.
Music—Mrs. Guy Nash.
Entertainment—Mrs. Wm. Kellogg.
Credentials—Mrs. L. A. DeGuerre.
Train and Automobile—Mrs. E.
W. Ellis.

Badges—Mrs. G. P. Hambrecht.
Ushers—Mrs. G. O. Babcock.
Press—Mrs. Emma Brundage.

It beats the dickens what a bad administration President Taft has given the country, according to Col Roosevelt's tell. We wonder if he Colonel would have told about it had he not been after the nomination himself. Teddy bamboozled the people for a long time and made many of them think he was quite a fellow, but the way he has acted since he started out after the nomination for president leads one to think that he is not such a fellow after all. In fact, the indications are that he is just an ordinary human being, with not quite the breadth of mind that a president of the United States should have. Rather a poor loser. One of these fellows who would go up against a shell game and then squeal for his money back when he found he could not beat the game.

YOUTHFUL FORGER GETS INTO TROUBLE.

Walter Ramsey, a young man who is well known in this city, but who has not been here much of the time for several years past, got into trouble on Thursday by passing several forged checks and has since been in the county jail to await trial at the coming term of circuit court.

It appears that Ramsey was about town Thursday evening having a time with the boys and that he ran out of money, and the result was that he drew several checks, signing the name of the Wood County Telephone Company to them, and had not at all difficulty in securing the money at the different saloons about town where he was having a good time with some companions.

It took the train that evening for Marshfield, and some of those who had cashed the checks became suspicious of them and telephoned Manager Smart to see if he had made out the checks. Finding that Mr.
Smart knew nothing of any checks, the authorities were communicated with and a message sent to Marshfield, where Ramsey was rounded up the same evening and brought to this city the next morning by Under-sheriff Welch.

When taken before Justice Brown that day Ramsey waived examination and was bound over to circuit court, bail being fixed at $500, which he was unable to furnish, and he was consequently placed in jail to await trial.

Trouble for Marshfield Mayor

Marshfield News.—After rumors of all kinds regarding the recent election have been flying around for nearly a month, the situation came to a head Tuesday in dispatches from Madison which showed that A. G. Parker, who was defeated for mayor by Robert Johnson, feels that he has a grievance which must be righted by a state investigation.

Serious charges have been filed with Governor McGovern by Mr.
Fekker, alleging that Mayor Connor "willfully violated" the corrupt practices law and citing alleged specific instances of such violation, such as "organizing the proprietors of saloons under an arrangement by which they were to furnish drinks without charge for the purpose of influencing voters; that he paid to diverse persons sums of money to be used to buy drinks and cigars, treating electors, and thus influencing their votes;" and more along the same line.

Acting upon these charges, Governor McGovern has appointed John B. Chase, district attorney of Oconto county, as counsel for Mr. Fekker to bring special proceedings in the circuit court of Wood county to determine whether or not the provisions of the law were violated.

Mayor Connor was asked for a statement after the above dispatches were received. He stated that there was no truth whatever in the charges; and that he proposed to go into court fully prepared to disprove them; but declined to make any further statement as he was not trying to have the case decided in the papers.

Dear little robin with voice so clear, You come 'neath my window with notes of cheer
You fill me with gladness; pain is

When I think of the Giver of all that's bright.
This beautiful world so full of God's love
Is an anchor of hope, triumphant above Go swell your anthem; dear robin

Sing sweet songs to them who need rest Cheer up the lone ones, soothe the pillow of pain;
Go carry God's message, then, come back again.

Fable of the Woman Who Was Great on Advice But Short on Practice.

Once upon a time there was a woman who was long on the intellectual Graft, but wasn't ace high when it came to trying a beefsteak.
She belonged to thirteen different clubs, societies, circles, lodges, etc., and she could get up in any one of them and make an impromptu Address on the needs of the heathen in Kamchaska, but she couldn't have told the needs of one of her own children, who in many ways were more needy than the heathen.

She could write just lovely papers on how to make the house beautiful and attractive, but she couldn't turn out a clappack, that was any different from a piece of split leather.
She was long on theories on how to bring up children, and about the time she was springing one of them on a long-suffering public the old man and the children were at home poring in the pantry trying to patch out some kind of a meal.

Some of her papers had been so good that her friends had noticed on them being published in the Weekly Steamer, much to the Discomfiture of the editor and many of his subscribers.

She had Edited several cookbooks and she was there with the goods when it came to giving Advice on meal functions, but she couldn't boil water without burning it, and her coffee would have made a Sunday school superintendent want to Murder his grandmother.

In fact, as a woman and a home maker, she didn't have one single redeeming feature on God's earth, and she didn't even respect the truth.
She was always on deck with the latest and the welcoming smile whenever the president of the home for indigent kittons struck town, but she seldom welcomed one of her own family with more than a nod when he or she loomed up in the surrounding scenery.

She was Johnny-ring-the-brook-st-bell when one of the neighbors had a christening, a wedding or a funeral, but she hardly knew her own children when she met them on the street, she saw them so seldom.

The girls left home as soon as they could find a man who was willing to shoulder the responsibility of caring for a family, and the boys made tracks for the West as soon as they were able to make a living, and the only one that stuck was the old man.
It was a life sentence for him and he had long ago become reconciled to his fate.

Sometimes the woman wondered why her family never cared to get together for a time like some of the neighbors, but she was so busy with her "work" that it did not bother her a great deal, and the last heard of her she was traveling about lecturing on woman's suffrage.

Moral—A well cooked meal goes farther toward building a happy home than all the intellectual dops that ever dripped from a pen.

Look Out for Them.

Two clever check forgers are operating in the state and every one should be on their guard not to be taken in by their wiles. One resurrected himself as a salesman for the Dry Paint & Color Co., of Buffalo.
He has been cashing checks on the Merchants' National bank of Buffalo, using the name of C. M. Fowler.
There is no such bank. Fowler is a man close to six feet tall, with hair and mustache slightly gray, of excellent appearance.

The other man travels under the name of G. Horst and passes checks purporting to be issued by the E. J.
Johnson Soap Co. He is a German, five feet eight inches tall, weighs 185 pounds, curly black hair, and mustache is streaked with gray.

zens of the United States who can

In the morning the pastor will speak on "Our Mothers." The evening service will be in charge of the Woman's Missionary Society. A

Baptists Association will be held in this city during the latter part of June, and Pastor Milne of the Baptist church of this city has already begun the preparatory work of entertaining the guests. The convention will be and a program of the doings will be published later.

Christ using the Fissot painting slides.
All are welcome. O. A. Mellicke.

Special Offer.
—Beginning on May 8th and continuing for two weeks, I will give a piano bench and a term of music lessons to anybody purchasing a piano from me. Mrs. P. P. Daly.

SOMEBODY connected with the

After that, leave it to us; we'll see

VALUE OF COLD STORAGE.
A St. Louis dealer declared to a convention of egg and poultry men that "it is the cold-storage men who insure cheap eggs instead of high-priced ones, as some legislators would have us believe. Were it not for cold storage, eggs would go to one dollar a dozen in winter, and in some places would be absolutely unobtainable, says the Omaha Bee. Of course, cold storage boosts the price occasionally in the summer; but if it did not, farmers in that season could not get more than two or three cents a dozen for their eggs." No doubt much cold storage is strikingly true. The cold-storage plant is, indeed, a lever of many others, not only for eggs, but for many other articles of produce, and, when properly controlled, needs and conditions, the cold storage becomes a valuable economic factor. The trouble is that it is not always so conducted. Its potential harm equals its potential good, and, unfortunately, selfish men have exploited this fact to their own advantage and the consumer's detriment. It is this mismanagement of the cold-storage system itself against which remedial legislation is directed.

A poor workman told his wife on a dreary morning of a curious dream he had during the night, relates the Marquette Tribune. He dreamed he saw coming toward him, in order, four rats. The first one was very fat, and was followed by two very lean rats, the third rat being blind. The dreamer was greatly perplexed as to what evil might follow; as it had been understood that to dream of rats denotes calamity. He explained to his wife concerning this, but she could not help him. His son, who heard the father tell the story, volunteered to be the interpreter. "The fat rat," he said, "is the mill or flour mill which sells hoaze. The two lean rats are my mother and me, and the blind rat is yourself."

Vienna can boast a curious eccentric, who turns life upside down, a rich young male, who lives in sumptuous style, but always summons his servants by bugle call. His favorite pastime is driving an omnibus, attended like an ordinary business, and, though he is said to spend a fortune each year in clothes, he wears no suit until it has been worn by his valet. He has anted up the contents of a bill by appearing in a costume of pure white, save for the shirt and tie, which were black. To complete his oddities, when dining, which he favors, he sits alone at a table d'hôte, he refuses the usual order, beginning his meal with the sweets and ending with the soup.

TRUST SUIT FILED

GOVERNMENT STARTS CASE AGAINST HARVESTER COMPANY IN ST. PAUL.

HITS AT INTERSTATE TRADE

Many Charges Are Set Forth Among Which Are Restraint of Trade and Monopoly of Business in Which Company Is Engaged.

St. Paul, Minn., May 2.—The government on Tuesday instituted a suit against the International Harvester company under the provisions of the Sherman anti-trust law, by filing a petition in equity in the federal district court here.

The government asks:

That the $140,000,000 corporation be dissolved on the ground that it is a monopoly in restraint of trade.

That injunction be issued to bar from interstate commerce the products of the International Harvester company or of the International Harvester Company of America, its selling agency.

That receivers be appointed to take charge of the property and wind up the business of the defendant, if the court finds such action compatible with public interest.

The following corporations and individuals are mentioned as defendants in the petition:

International Harvester company, International Harvester Company of America, International Flax Twine company, Wisconsin Steel company, Wisconsin Lumber company, Illinois Northern railway, Chicago, West Pullman & Southern Railroad company, Cyrus H. McCormick, George F. Barker, Charles Deering, Norman B. Room, James Deering, Charles Steele, John J. Coker, John A. Chapman, William H. Jones, Elbert H. Gary, Harold F. McCormick, Thomas D. Jones, Richard F. Howe, John P. Wilson, Edgar A. Bamford, William L. Saunders, William J. Loderbeck, George W. Perkins.

Assistant District Attorney J. Mark Dickey, who filed the petition before Judge Charles A. Willard, announced that the subpoenas issued for Cyrus H. McCormick, president of the Harvester company, and for all the rest of the 18 individuals and seven corporations are returned May 3. The defendants must enter their appearance in court by June 3, but it probably will be July 1 before they will be required to answer the government's petition.

Mr. Dickey received word that Attorney General Cummings would probably file a certificate of expedition in order that as little time as possible will be lost in bringing the suit to trial. The case by this means will be removed from the district court of Minnesota to the United States district court of appeals for the eighth circuit, thus hastening the issue to the Supreme court of the United States.

The charges by the government against the Harvester company are:

That the company is monopolizing the manufacture and sale of harvesting machinery, has advanced prices "to the grave injury of the farmer and the general public."

That the company controls at least 30 per cent of the trade in the United States in harvesters or grain binders, 75 per cent of the mowers, and more than 50 per cent of the binder twine.

That the company has absorbed competing companies while allowing the companies still to advertise as being independent, "thereby misleading, deceiving and defrauding the public and more effectively crippling existing competitors and keeping out new ones."

That the defendants have resorted to unfair trade methods by attempting to induce agents to handle only their products.

That they have bought up patents to perpetuate the monopoly.

That in organizing the International Harvester company the defendants were actuated by a determination to form a trust.

That the company bound retail dealers by contract not to sell the products of any other manufacturer.

That the harvester company receives iron, steel and lumber from the Wisconsin Steel company and the Wisconsin Lumber company, subsidiaries, which are used to eliminate competition.

The company was incorporated in New Jersey with a capital stock originally of $120,000,000. The control of the capital stock was placed in the hands of the trustees—Cyrus H. McCormick, Charles Deering and George W. Perkins, who issued stock trust certificates to the persons actually owning the stock.

Trample Upon Men and Women in Mad Rush—Deputy Sheriffs Patrol City After "Faithful" Are Whipped and Routed.

Chicago, May 1.—Led by the town marshal, a "blackleg" band of citizens on Monday evening attacked 200 of Wilbur Glenn Voliva's crusaders at Zion City, who were singing hymns of praise. Both men and women were beaten and trampled on the ground in the rioting.

The attack was the outgrowth of the bitter feeling of citizens styled "independents" against the churchmen's crusade on the "tobacco using employees" of Zion City's new industries. The crusaders had massed near the Cook electric plant to pray for the workers as they left the shops.

Following the riot, in which several of the churchmen were seriously injured, Voliva caused the huge bell of Zion hall to be rung continuously for an hour. That summoned 3,000 of the "faithful" together.

In the meantime angered "independents" stormed in mobs up and down the streets, driving Voliva followers indoors. Mayor W. P. Miller caused Sheriff Elmer Green to rush from Waukegan to the riot-ridden town with armed deputies. Throughout the evening there were threats of further trouble on the part of the "independents" who patrolled the streets with a free display of weapons.

Joseph Bishop, a youthful follower of Voliva, was the most seriously injured. In attempting to defend women about him in the mad rush at the prayer service, he was beaten to the ground by "blackjacks" and "blisses" in a dozen hands. It is thought his skull is fractured.

MOTORCYCLE RACES PLANNED BY BOARD

To Be Held on the Last Day of the State Fair.

MONEY OFFERED AS PRIZES

$400 Is Appropriated for at Least Twenty-Five Contestants at Mrs. Adda F. Howie, Woman Member, Makes Suggestions.

Madison.—The Wisconsin state board of agriculture held a meeting in Milwaukee in the rooms of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association. Four hundred dollars was appropriated for motorcycle races to be held on the last day of the state fair.

The appropriation provides prizes for at least twenty-five contestants. The races will be conducted under the auspices of the National Association of Motorcycleists.

Mrs. Adda F. Howie, the first woman to be appointed to the board, made her maiden speech which was full of suggestions tending to increase the efficiency of the board. Mrs. Howie said that none but competent judges should be selected for the different departments of exhibits.

She also suggested that instead of having the poultry department located underneath the grand stand, poultry should be housed on some part of the grounds which would be more conducive to sanitary conditions. Mrs. Howie would use the space now occupied by the poultry department to show a model kitchen, dining room and sitting room.

Mrs. Howie's remarks were well received by male members of the board, a number of them expressing the opinion that had a woman been on the board she it, it would have worked to its advantage.

M. J. Sweeney was appointed custodian of the fair grounds. He was ordered to give a bond of $1,000 for the faithful performance of his duties. Mrs. Sweeney is a civil service appointee.

Charles H. Everett was elected vice-president of the board to succeed J. J. Nelson, whose term expired on April 1. Henry Krueger, a new member, was elected superintendent of the department of agriculture.

The premium list for this year's fair will be ready for distribution by June 10.

Members of the Wisconsin Archeological society and others have formed a memorial society, with H. L. Skivens, Janesville, as president, to erect a monument to Chief White Crow, leader of a famous band of Winnebagoes who bore his name.

It is planned to locate the memorial shaft on the site of White Crow's village at Caracajou Point, Lake Koshong, on the farm owned by Mr. Skivens. It was at this village that Chief White Crow was killed last autumn, and he discovered how the Indians made their stone implements.

On the village site is an immense boulder which has been suggested as appropriate for the monument, which would be inscribed with a bronze tablet. It is planned to hold the boulder during the act, and a summer, and have the gathering of archeologists will be present. Charles C. Brown of Madison is acting secretary and treasurer of the memorial society.

Teachers' Payments Valid.
Chapter 323 of the laws of 1911, known as the teachers' insurance and retirement fund law, is held constitutional in an opinion by Attorney General Bacon in response to an inquiry by State Treasurer John D. Simonds.

The inquiry by the fact that warrants are coming to him for payment under the provisions of the law. The statute creates a teachers' insurance and retirement fund to be made up of so-called assessments upon the salaries of all teachers coming within the provisions of the act, and of an amount set aside annually from the so-called seven-tenths mill tax equal to ten cents for each person of school age in the state. These assessments are not paid by the teachers, but are retained from their salaries by the school board. The fund thus created is used for paying certain annuities or pensions to retired teachers.

Whether this law in fact results in the taking of private property without compensation or in the granting of public money in aid of any individual association of corporations, he held that the law is general in its application and does not discriminate negatively, and leaves the material objection that the payment of public funds under this act is not for a public purpose—"It is axiomatic that public funds can be used only for public purposes."

Ask for Federal Probe.

While the auction was in progress, it is said, a protest against the sale was made to Governor McGovern by an Iowa farmer.

Sorenson, La Crosse; vice-president, John J. Cartens, Bedford; secretary, Guy F. Gregg, Milwaukee; treasurer, E. W. Lawton, De Pere.

Aid Road Improvement.
That the state highway commission will assist Bayfield county in its campaign for better roads by providing an engineer to lay out the work and assist in its construction was determined at a meeting in Madison of the commissioner with representatives of that county.

The commission also determined that where the boards have laid out plans for work under the law such plans will not be modified by the commission unless a town meeting by a majority vote petitions that change be made.

Board Cuts Freight Rates.

Reduced freight rates on several commodities were ordered in three decisions of the railroad commission. In the case of the Milwaukee and Stone company, the Milwaukee and Stone company was ordered to reduce the rates on brick recently ordered by the commission, affect also the rates on concrete blocks. A similar petition against the Milwaukee road was dismissed.

In the case of Several Brothers and Pugh, the railroad commission ordered that the rates on brick recently ordered by the commission, affect also the rates on concrete blocks. A similar petition against the Milwaukee road was dismissed.

Wisconsin Is Guernsey Cow Leader.
Statistics just compiled by the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders' association show that Wisconsin leads the United States in the number of purebred Guernsey cows.

Waukesha county, the Guernsey capital of America, contains more purebred Guernsey cows than any other state in the Union. The chief owners in this county are R. W. Rawlins of Waukesha, Maj. Howard Green of Genesee Depot, W. M. Jones and Fox Brothers of Waukesha, and John H. Williams, Waukesha. Wisconsin is especially adapted to the successful raising of Guernsey cattle in a manner similar to Australia's peculiar adaptability to Merino sheep. The soil is good, climatic conditions are favorable, corn, alfalfa and clover thrive in all parts, and big markets abound. There are Chicago, Milwaukee, Green Bay, Superior, Fond du Lac, La Crosse, Oshkosh, Janesville, Beloit and Madison to be served with milk, cream and butter.

The rank of states in number of pure bred Guernsey cattle is the following:

Wisconsin, 3,001; New York, 2,340; Pennsylvania, 2,006; Massachusetts, 1,147; New Jersey, 737; Ohio, 732; Minnesota, 725.

Guernsey cows of pure blood variety will soon prevail in Wisconsin, say experts on bovine questions, because this particular kind of cow yields more milk and butter fat than any other kind, and from two to five times as much as the ordinary "scrub" cow as common on all farms. This is especially true because the Guernsey cow consumes less food than other varieties, but still gives a larger yield. The claims put forth by the owners of Guernsey cows are based on several years of experience and experimenting with them, are that the cows have a stronger constitution and greater capacity than other cows.

Royal Arcanum Elects.

Krehl, Milwaukee; grand sentinel, Frank Yockey, Fond du Lac; grand trustee, W. C. Hood, Racine; W. H. Colleen, Green Bay; Joseph Shaffer, Milwaukee; representatives to the national council, W. C. Mr. Simonds, grand secretary, has been in office for the last thirty years and is a charter member of Allen council. There are at present forty-one councils in Wisconsin with a total of 3,450 members, of which 245 were gained during the last year.

Legislature Invited to Exhibit.
Invitations will be extended to the entire body of the Wisconsin legislature to visit the university exposition at one time. This action was decided upon at a meeting of the executive committee held in Madison.

L. J. Castle, chairman of the program committee, reported that over 1,500 programs would be published and used by the exposition patrons. A description of practically every exhibit at the university will be given in this program. Other interesting information about the exposition and the university in general will be included. The program will be used not only for the exposition patrons but will be sent to hundreds of high schools throughout Wisconsin.

Arrangements are being made for the holding of a guessing contest on the total number in attendance at the exposition. A prize valued at $100 will be given to the winner.

Will Help Bayfield.
The state highway commission will assist Bayfield county in its campaign for better roads by providing an engineer to lay out the work and assist in its construction was determined at a meeting in Madison of the commissioner with representatives of that county.

The commission also determined that where the boards have laid out plans for work under the law such plans will not be modified by the commission unless a town meeting by a majority vote petitions that change be made.

Asks Title to Mazomanie Church.
The Wisconsin State Baptist convention has filed a petition in the circuit court asking that it may get possession of the property, the Mazomanie Baptist church, through sale. The petition states that the Mazomanie Baptist society was organized prior to 1857. Since then it has had a complete change of membership and during the last ten years had been practically extinct, the only members being the Rev. E. C. Goodwin, Mrs. Myrtle Tucker and Mrs. Rebecca Jane Stetson.

Roosevelt and the Trusts.

Washington, April 29.—That the steel trust is willing to spend money to elect men to public office who are willing to serve it after they get into office, is again being demonstrated.

When Theodore Roosevelt was President of the United States, he permitted the Steel Trust to absorb its principal rival, the Tennessee Coal and Iron company. This permission to violate the law was worth millions of dollars to the steel trust, because it practically assured it free, by the simple process of tightening the screws on the public, to exert most any price it desired for its products.

The absorption of the Tennessee company by the steel trust was in direct violation of both the spirit and the letter of the law. No one denies this. Not even the attorneys for the steel trust contend now, or ever did contend, that the deal was legal.

This is not the only favor Theodore Roosevelt did for the steel trust, or the harvest trust, at the request of C. W. Perkins, then partner of J. Pierpont Morgan.

Roosevelt's commissioner of corporations investigated the harvest trust, found it illegal, but at the suggestion of Mr. Perkins, the report was not made public.

The most exhaustive search of the records of Congress during the years that Roosevelt was president fails to show the passage of a single measure that even in the most remote manner affected the monopoly of the hundreds of such measures were introduced in both the House and Senate while Mr. Roosevelt was president.

Each and every man who was influential in committee, and Mr. Roosevelt never raised his voice in protest.

Mr. Roosevelt is now a candidate for office. Every politician in the land is aware that he is spending more money to obtain delegates than any candidate for the presidency has spent in the last quarter century.

Let us remember that, treasurer of the Roosevelt League, has just filed with the Secretary of State of New York a list of contributors to the Roosevelt campaign fund.

This sworn affidavit reveals that in the city of New York alone, Geo. W. Perkins, organizer of the harvest trust and director of the steel trust, spent $15,000, Frank A. Munsey, the largest individual holder of the steel trust's common stock in the country, contributed $15,000 more.

Thirty thousand dollars of steel trust money went in a city of one state alone, and there are 48 states in the Union! This sworn statement shows that in New York City $50,138.75 was spent about $10,000 Roosevelt votes, or practically a 10 vote.

Senator Stephenson spent only half as much per vote in Wisconsin, and it was declared that he thus debauched American standards, and should not be permitted to occupy a seat in the Senate!

The point of this article, however, is that the steel trust stands by its friends.

Wisconsin a Cranberry State

Wisconsin has grown 12 per cent of the cranberry crop of the United States, according to C. G. Malde, superintendent of the branch cranberry station of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin. A complete census, with illustrations, on cranberry bog operations, known as Bulletin 213, has been prepared by Mr. Malde, and is being mailed free of charge by the Experiment Station at Madison.

Several million acres of marsh land are available in Wisconsin for growing cranberries. The best success is obtained on acid peat marsh soil. By the old methods, profits were not always realized on cranberries, but the cranberry station has introduced methods tending to secure a more uniform crop and thus to make cranberry growing a safer investment.

Washington Notes.

Washington, D. C., May 4.—Special Correspondence of the Tribune.

Of course, the only topic of conversation amongst politicians in the City of Washington is the Roosevelt and Taft sniping match. I was thoroughly satisfied that it would come sooner or later and that Mr. Taft's friends would rib him up to the stinking point and make him go after Roosevelt in the same manner that Roosevelt has been going after him.

There never has been a spectacle in the United States from a political standpoint that is now being presented to the voters of this country, a President and an Ex-President both stamping the country for nomination for the Presidency on the Republican ticket and hurling epithets at one another like the wives of a lot of fish mongers in White Chapel market in London. It positively is disgraceful but the Democrats have all broad smiles and the Republicans have got the dry grains. They know that the Democrats are clipping from the press of the country every utterance of both these Republican leaders and will use them in the next campaign, whichever one will be nominated.

As I have previously remarked in this correspondence, whether "Rodeo" kill Cassio or Cassio kill Rodeo, it all makes for Democratic success. The Democrats have no immortal club in the election of a President next November, it makes no difference who is nominated.

With all of this criminalization and re-criminalization between the two leading factors of this country will come to the conclusion that neither of them is worthy to be President of the United States and in going to the polls next November they will say in the language of Morio, "A plaque on both your houses."

The truth of the matter is that Colonel Henry Watterson is correct in saying that Roosevelt is crazy. I have known him for fifteen years, and he has been made crazier by his selfish ambition and an insane desire for the lime-light. He can exist no better out of the lime-light and the applause of the multitude than can a fish on land. It is the breath of his nostrils and he is not much to be blamed for getting into this tight because it is absolutely his natural condition and he can no more help it than he can help breathing.

As the late Senator Carmack of Tennessee once said in "Roosevelt's natural state is a running away."

The trouble with President Taft is that he has a backbone made of chocolate and an every interested politician of the standard variety has been able to work his fingers in him and lead him to do things against the interests of the people and in the interest of big business. So far as that is concerned, they used Roosevelt in the same way and he has been trying to cover it up and denying it but chickens always come home to roost.

The fact of the business is that Roosevelt is a fakir and a fraud trying to hoodwink the people of this country again and that Taft is a wabbling politician who can be lead at any time and is trying to get back into the Presidency to be handled by the same gang of political freebooters who have been looting the Treasury under the guise of protective tariff.

At last the people have got their eyes open and they will at the polls next November, unless I am the weakest prophet that ever prophesied, swing them once eternally away from the kibosh on the Republican party for many years to come.

The spectacular campaign being made by Roosevelt and Taft for the Presidential nomination on the Republican ticket has absolutely overshadowed the race.

Invited to Appleton.

Appleton, Wis., April 22.—The Grand Rapids high school track team has been invited to participate with fifty other schools in the twelfth annual Northeast Interscholastic track and field meet on Lawrence field, May 18, under the auspices of the Athletic association of Lawrence college.

The reorganization of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association recently, dividing the state into districts, is going to make the Northeast meet at Lawrence this year far more important than ever before, and the indications are that over 200 athletes will participate.

The number of contestants from each school will be limited to two in each event, although three may be entered. All moneys taken in at the gate will be used to defray the expenses of the visiting athletes. Lawrence field has been greatly improved since the last interscholastic meet, the fine cinder track is faster than ever and it is expected several records will be broken.

Some of the prizes to be given by Lawrence college are: a trophy cup to the school winning the highest number of points; a gold, silver or bronze medal to the individuals who secure first, second or third places in the total number of points made by any one person; gold medals to men who break records; banners to the winners of the relay races; and special pennants to first, second and third men in every dual event.

How Tires Should be Washed

At this season of the year when roads, in consequence of spring showers, are often muddy, most motor cars are coming in for their share of washing.

Washing tires and washing a car are two different propositions, says the Michelin tire expert. Water alone should be used to wash tires and as little of it as necessary. After every run the envelope should be wiped clean with a damp sponge or well-wrung cloth.

A common mistake made by motorists is to mix kerosene with water. This may be advisable when washing the body of a car to remove mud and dust from the varnish, but it should never be done when washing tires because kerosene eats rubber.

This fact can be readily proved by immersing a small piece of rubber in kerosene and allowing it to soak. The rubber will soon swell and lose its elasticity. The reason for this is apparent. Kerosene is rich in fatty properties which remain after the evaporation of the gases. Every time a tire is washed with a kerosene mixture the rubber is deprived of more of its strength.

When washing tires it is best simply to dampen a sponge with clean water, once being taken that the sponge is not soaked and dripping. Then wipe the tires dry with a cloth or handful of waste.

This, and many other phases of the tire question are fully covered in the "Books of Bibendum" sent free to motorists upon request by the Michelin Tire Company, of Milltown, New Jersey.

Training Nurses. Free Scholarships. Increased Earning Power. The Philadelphia School for Nurses, 2219 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, announces that enrollment for the Fall classes will shortly begin. This institution is recognized and endorsed by leading physicians everywhere. Free scholarships in the two year course are available and provide room, board, laundering, incidental expenses and railroad fare home on completion of the course. A home study course and a resident short course are also provided. The school provides full instruction under safe and wholesome conditions and opens the way to almost immediate financial betterment for those who need to increase their earning power.

A special short course class opens October 8th. This class is formed at the request of leading physicians who are anxious that some provision be made to meet the increasing demand for nurses in all sections. This is an opening which will be appreciated by those who need to quickly prepare themselves for self support and nursing duty. An illustrated number of the School bulletin, which is sent free to interested persons, gives all the details.

Two Weeks' Encampment. Two weeks' encampment instead of one and one unusual form of drill is prescribed for the Second and Third regiments, W. N. G., in orders received recently by Col. Orlando Holway of the Third regiment who will command the brigade of the two regiments.

The Second and Third will go into camp at Camp Douglas, July 22, together, instead of separately as is the custom. After three days, the two regiments will start out on a brigade in heavy marching order for the Sparta military reservation, over thirty-seven miles of the poorest roads in Wisconsin.

This march is expected to take three days over sand roads and up and down hill in mid July and is expected to give the citizen-soldiers a fair tryout.

Arriving at the camp at Sparta, the militiamen will maneuver with the regulars for another week, giving two weeks of particularly valuable drill.

The Crusades.

(The Fiscal Crusades, 1096-1099 by Mrs. Hoskinson)

The history of the crusades presents no phenomena so striking as the rise and progress of Christianity. Originating in Palestine, a country not remarkable for any political, commercial or literary influences, emanating from One occupied a humble position in the community, and which he appeared, and announced in the first instance, by means of a meek and unassuming life, it spread so rapidly that in an incredibly short period of time, it had become the dominant force of the world, and in the end of the century of its existence became the recognized and established religion of the entire world.

When it is remembered that this result was achieved, not only without the aid of any worldly influence, but in the face of the most opposition on the part of all the leading wealth, and power of the world, the most powerful and mightiest forces of the earth, the conclusion is strongly forced upon us, that a power beyond that of man, was concerned in the success of this movement.

It is not surprising, therefore, that the world should have been so profoundly affected by the advent of this new religion, and that it should have been so profoundly affected by the advent of this new religion, and that it should have been so profoundly affected by the advent of this new religion.

Also the wrath of the people had been fomented into fury by the teaching of Peter the Hermit.

The natives of the west shall take up arms, in your cause," said the Hermit, and he hastened to Rome, and poured forth his story, calling for immediate redress of their wrongs.

The Church of Christ said he "was in the iron grasp of the infidels and the blood of the Christians called aloud for vengeance."

Through the length, and breadth of Christendom, a fierce indignation was stirring the hearts of men. The Greek Emperor, also, appealed to Western Christendom.

The fiery appeals of Peter the Hermit carried everywhere before them, and the result was that wherever he went, rich and poor, aged and young, the knight and the peasant, thronged around the unlettered stranger, who with his feet, and hand bare, rode upon an ass, carrying a cross.
